

Math 254 Online Orientation

Already have a Coursecompass account

If you took this class last semester with me, since we are still using the same book the access code you purchased is still valid. All you need is the course id for this semester's course. You will get it once you submit the Online Orientation form.

Once you have the new course id, log in to your Coursecompass account, and find where it says "My account" or "Manage my account" or something like that! That is where you enter the new course id.
