Welcome Online Students!

Congratulations on your enrollment in OnMusic Appreciation, Music 10 OL at Cabrillo College. Please read all information on my home page and view the Orientation Video by clicking on [this link]. If you still have questions, then you may email me. I believe you will find this course interesting and user friendly. Your investment in the CDrom software is well spent as you are getting a treasure trove of music from a wide variety of styles and time periods to listen to. To get things started be sure to click on Discussion Group in your menu and log in to join the first discussion- ‘Introduce yourself as a music listener’. In the interest of having you succeed in the course, please follow these important points carefully:

1. Be systematic in your study schedule. Set specific times each week to devote to your online class.

2. Be sure to respond to and answer all of the points requested in your essay assignments.

3. There are no weekly due dates for each assignment. The midterm exam is only open from weeks five through eight of the semester. If you have not completed it you will be dropped from the course. You must log in to the course, begin the work, and join in a discussion group by the end of the second week of the semester. Any exceptions to this will require special permission from me. The final exam will close at midnight on the Thursday before exam week. Discussion groups are 6% of the total grade and are required to pass the course. You also must complete all five written assignments to receive a passing grade in the course.

4. If you experience any technical difficulties contact the support team at support@connect4education.com for assistance.

5. If you are having difficulty with any of the questions, or if you have a question about your grades, contact me at subruckn@cabrillo.edu My website is www.cabrillo.edu/~sbruckner/

6. Three of your assignments will carry a heavier weight in your final grade. They are: the midterm exam, the final exam, and the written assignments. Be sure to give these extra time and preparation!

If you follow the above suggestions, you should do well in the course. I am excited to share the wonderful music with you and look forward to hearing your comments. I look forward to our musical journey together.
